DEPUTY SHERIFF IS ACCUSED OF HELPING BEAT MRS. BENISCH

MRS.
JOHN BENISCH

MRS. FRANCIS BENISCH.

Condition of Victim of Attack Is Worse and She Is Hurt In- ternally—One Prisoner Ad- mits Being in Crowd.

Mrs. Frances Benisch of 1912 O'Fallon street, who was beaten by a crowd of young men and boys who disturbed her Sunday by playing baseball on a vacant lot near her home, was somewhat worse Tuesday morning. At her home it was said that she had passed a bad night and that she complained of severe pains indicating that she had suffered internal injuries.

Capt. Johnson of Carr Street Station said that he had never received any complaints regarding the ballplayers at the place where Mrs. Benisch was attacked.

"There is no ordinance prohibiting ball playing on vacant lots," said Capt. Johnson, "and unless we have complaints or a patrolman personally notices disorderly conduct, nothing can be done. We stop boys from playing on the street but they are within their rights on a vacant lot, and so long as they play quietly and do not disturb any one we let them alone."

"I think I have two of the men who attacked Mrs. Benisch. John Tatten admitted to me that he took the pistol from Mrs. Benisch, but he denied hitting or kicking her. My men are looking for others who were in the crowd, and if any evidence can be had against any member of the crowd he will be promptly arrested."

WILLIAM O'BRIEN

"Tatten, who is a Deputy Sheriff, and lives at 222 O'Fallon street, was arrested Monday night and was later released on bail.

William O'Brien, 22 years old, 1215 North Sixteenth street, was also arrested Monday night. He was held for the Court of Criminal Correction and was sent to the Four Courts holdover. Arrests for warrants for these and for the two prisoners arrested Sunday night will be made.

Work Commences at the Public Square in Alton.

The permanent survey of the Alton, Jacksonville & Peoria road was started Monday morning from the City Square of Alton. This will be one terminal of the new interurban line. The work crews are being gathered and camps established for the actual construction work.

CHARGE HIM WITH RUNNING LOTTERY

W. H. Clifton, Arrested in Dallas, Tex., Brought Here for Trial.

W. H. Clifton, in jail here on an indictment returned by the Federal grand jury charging him with conducting a lottery in connection with the business of the Equitable Home Association, says he will furnish bond immediately for his release and appearance at the October term of court.

Clifton was brought to St. Louis from Dallas, Tex., Monday afternoon, having been arrested in that city two weeks ago. The headquarters of the association, of which he was president and general manager, were in the Burlington building for a few months, being then transferred to Dallas. The scheme which the Federal authorities believe is a lottery, provides for the purchase of $3000 contracts to run for 20 years, the subscribers paying $50 monthly. At the end of the first year they may register their contracts and receive the total amount in the order of their subscription. This is a lottery, it is claimed, because the subscriber does not know how many are ahead of him or when his money will be paid to him.

Postoffice inspector J. L. Stice says that up until October, 1904, more than $20,000 had been paid to the company.

Hear Alleged Gamblers Friday.

The cases of the seven men who were arrested in the Hotel Jefferson Sunday night charged with playing poker have been continued in the City Hall Police Court until Friday. Chief Kiely declared Tuesday that he did not believe that the management knew of the game and that he had received information that gamblers had been renting rooms and conducting games privately.

HELPED TO SAVE LIVE STOCK IN FLOOD OF 1844.

ALONZO UHLS.

Alonzo Uhls, aged 79, who died Monday at his home, 1515 O'Farrell avenue, was a man who knew St. Louis in the days when there was no bridge here nor any railroads and when St. Louis people did a large part of their trading at Kaskaskia, Ill. He helped save live stock in St. Louis in the great flood of 1844.

Born in Tennessee, Mr. Uhls came to this city when he was 11 years old. He lived on a farm near the town and in Southern Illinois and his occupation was that of a farmer until he retired a few years ago.

Mr. Uhls was 6 feet 2 inches in height and three of his sons were more than 6 feet tall. The following children survive: Dr. C. C. Uhls, superintendent of the insane asylum at O'Fallon, Mo.; Kan., Charles F. Uhls, Spokane, Wash.; H. A. Uhls, St. Louis; C. E. Uhls, St. Louis; and Mrs. M. C. Mack, St. Louis.

The funeral will be held at the residence at 2 p. m. Wednesday, and the remains will be taken to New Palestine, Ill., for interment.

City's Four-Year-Old Patient Dreams of Being Star Baseball Player

BY ROSE MARION.

"STEAL the water,"

The words rang through the hospital ward as if they were so much hard steel, although the one that said them was but a child. No one heeded the command, no one dared. Only milk was permitted the child by the physicians who understood his trouble.

The white curtains, the sufferers on the cots and the flowers on the windowsill were all rubbed out of my mind picture for a minute.

I seemed to see a baseball diamond about which played men that loved the game and meant to win. A captain was coaching his men. The reference to water was wasted upon me. The command meant steal as the word is defined in the dictionary of the national game where bases are the only articles filched.

The child was responsible for my picture. He's only 4, but he's working for the Cardinal bench. His eyes are brown with curling black lashes, his hair is brown and straight. His body is as thin as if he'd been in hard training. The nail on the big toe of his right foot is loose and the second nail is just growing on the third finger of his right hand.

He owns two "bats" and a ball and can pitch and catch and bat.

When I asked him his age he said: "I am just as big as my brother."

My question was put in other words and he replied that he was 4. He told me afterwards that his brother was also 4. I understood.

"You're twins?" I asked, and was glad when I received an affirmative reply. I put two together and fancied the joy of the future fans when they watched the "twin battery."

"Herman can't play ball," said Henry, "not at all; can't pitch, or hit, or catch."

A physician came over to speak to Henry.

MEMBER OF PIONEER VASQUEZ FAMILY DEAD.

MRS. KATE VASQUEZ.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Vasquez, 61 years old, who was found dead in bed by her daughter, Miss Tonia Vasquez, at her home, 1028 South Ninth street, Monday morning, will be conducted at 9 a. m. Wednesday from the Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Vasquez, who has been in ill health for the past year from heart trouble but who was feeling as well as usual Sunday evening, retired about 9. None of the other members of the family visited her room until 7 a. m. Monday, when she was found dead about two hours. She died when she was 61 years old. She was born in New Orleans in 1844, and her parents moved to Warrenton, Mo., when she was 16 years old. She spent her girlhood in Warrenton and St. Louis, marrying William Vasquez in this city in 1865.

She leaves four children, Miss Tonia Vasquez, Miss Bernice Vasquez, Edgar Vasquez and Mrs. P. W. Brennan. She was a sister to L. Garvey of 1823 Hickory street.

CALL FOR HELP FROM ALLEY

Policemen Arrest Fighters Who Attract Big Crowd.

Policemen Abbott and McGuire of the Deer Street Station, passing the alley

at the rear of 437 North Market street, Monday night, heard a man calling for help. They arrested Leon G. Archard, 328 North Newstead avenue, and Robert Redding, aged 22, 429 Maritz avenue, whom they found in the alley fighting.

A third man escaped, but was caught a few minutes later as he came back to the scene of the fight, carrying Archard's hat. He said he was John Ryan, aged 22, 466 St. Louis avenue. Redding told the police that the other men had assaulted him. Archard, who said he was a private detective, admitted that he had attacked Redding, alleging that the latter had been too intimate with his wife. A great crowd was attracted by the fight and the arrests. All the men were charged with disturbing the peace and gave bond.

TEAMSTERS WELCOMED.

Chicago Employers' Association Lifts Ban on Union.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Police were removed today from the wagons of many firms that have been strikebound for four months. Correspondingly, many union drivers were restored to their old places.

The Employers' Association, following the determination of the Lumbermen's Association to reinstate union teamsters in a body, has decided to lift the ban placed on all strikers a week ago.

A boycott against five big coal companies is still on.

Sidney Boh, aged 33, day clerk at the St. James Hotel, died Monday from a pulmonary disease at his lodgings, 209 North Broadway. His body will be sent to relatives in New Orleans for burial.

DRIVER FALLS OFF SEAT TO HIS DEATH

An inquest will be held Tuesday into the death of Thomas Barrett, aged 24, 1227 South Seventh street, who was run over by a transfer wagon driven by himself Monday evening.

Timothy Lynch, 1429 Indiana avenue, Kansas City, says he was riding on the rear end of Barrett's wagon and that the first he knew of the accident was when he saw Barrett's body lying, crushed, on the ground after the wagon had passed. He was Barrett's friend, he says. The police, called to the scene of the accident, Seventh and Poplar streets, by Lynch, hold him as a witness.

It is thought that Barrett was overcome by a fainting spell while driving and fell off the seat.

ARTHUR SMITH.

Runaway Sons of Kansas City Judge and Railroad Man Arrested Here Anxious to Go Home and Take Whippings.

"Do I want to go home? Gee! I guess I do want to go home! I 'pose there's a whipping waiting home for me, but I won't mind that, I want to go home!"

Arthur Smith, aged 13, whose home is in Kansas City, Kan., now a prisoner in the matron's detention room at Four Courts, wants to go home. Saying so, in the language quoted, he expressed the sentiments of Raymond Brooks, aged 16, of the same city, now a prisoner in the holdover at Four Courts.

The boys, though neatly dressed, attracted the attention of Policeman Trafford by the grimy condition of their faces, when he saw them chewing toothpicks in front of the Southern Hotel Monday evening.

"I'd been to St. Louis before," said Arthur. "I was here during the World's Fair. I didn't have as much money then as I had this time and I didn't have enough either time. That time I only had 50 cents when I got here and I didn't get inside the fair grounds during the whole week I was here.

"Ray came with me because I told him what a good time I had here. We'd been saving the nickels the folks gave us for Sunday school contribution and I had $1.30 and he had $1.25.

"We got on the blind baggage of a Wabash train Sunday night and rode to Mexico, Mo., where we got off for fear we'd be seen. Then we rode in a box-car to Montgomery, where we got another blind baggage that brought us all the way to St. Louis. It's pretty dizzy riding on the front end and a fellow gets to thinking what would happen if he'd go to sleep and fall off or if the brakeman would find him and put him off. The box-car was better some ways, though it made us nervous to hear the brakeman walking on the roof over our heads.

"We wanted to see a big hotel and were sitting there at the Southern when the policeman came along. I guess the Kansas City hotels will be big enough for us after this."

Raymond is the son of Judge A. A. Brooks of the Kansas City (Kan.) North Side Court. Arthur is the son of James Smith, chief dispatcher for the Missouri Pacific in that city. The parents have been telegraphed.

IMMIGRATION INCREASING.

July Heaviest Month in History of Arrivals.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Undesirable immigrants from all parts of Europe are pouring into this country, according to United States Commissioner Watchman, at an increased rate.

"Europe is sending her rif-raff to this country," says the commissioner. "In rough figures, 4,000 immigrants arrived during the month of July, against 28,000 in July of last year, making it the heaviest month in history of arrivals. The undesirable element is shown by the increased number of deportations. More than one thousand were deported during July, as against 645 in July 1904. The deportations now average 250 a week."

MAKING THEM PAY UP

Commissioner Patterson
Chicago Business Men to Pay for Use of Streets.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Joseph Medill
Patterson, who is Commissioner of Public Works for Mayor Dunne, is causing consternation among owners of skyscrapers and big department stores

by his present crusade for compensation
to the city for spaces occupied on sidewalks and streets.
He discovered that the Rookery Building has its big power plant under Quin-
ce street, occupying a space 100 by 30
feet. He compelled the building company to settle.
Marshall Field has been forced to pay
a big price for undermining streets. Already the city has obtained $200,000 for this privilege which never before was paid for, and the end is not yet.

POOR MAN NOW;
REFUSED A SALE
TO ROCKEFELLER

Spencer Frary, Cousin of Oil
King's Wife, Thought He Could Run Oil Business of His Own.

SCOFFS AT CHRISTIANITY
OF THE RICHEST MAN

Says It's Part of the Game—
Compares His Lot With That
of the Magnate to Credit of His Own Peace of Mind.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 1.—"I have been squeezed by John D. Rockefeller
and financially ruined by him," said
Spencer Frary, a cousin of Mrs. John D.
Rockefeller, in an interview here today.

"I believe I would have been a rich man today had I been permitted to have continued my oil business, which was taken from me by Mr. Rockefeller some 18 years ago," continued Frary.

Spencer Frary was born at Ravenna.
He came here a farmer in 1871 and engaged in the grocery business. He went through the panic of '73 and then went into the oil business as a manufacturer of lubricating oil. After he had become well established, he had an offer to sell to Rockefeller and Andrews. He declined. He said that he believed that there was money in the oil business for him and decided to continue it.

"Here I made my mistake," said Frary, "for one morning I awoke to find that the price of paraffine oil, which I had to buy from Mr. Rockefeller, had been more than doubled, and in that,
in other words, the price of the commodity
which I bought from the Standard had been doubled, and the price of the commodity which I manufactured had been
but in two by the Standard."

"Then we knew that at the same time
while we were paying 70 cents per barrel for sending oil to the seaboard
Rockefeller was only paying 10 cents."

Ida Tarbell says Rockefeller was not satisfied with such a wide discrimination and he even got a rebate on our
rate, and I have no doubt this was true,
although I have no knowledge on the question."

Mr. Frary spoke of how miserable Mrs.
Rockefeller was feeling as a result of
newspaper and magazine attacks now being made on her husband. The effect, Mr. Frary said, had a most depressing effect on her health.

"I have frequently visited at Forest
Hill," continued Mr. Frary, "together with my wife. I have never seen Mr.
Rockefeller on the occasion of these visits. I have never wanted to see him.
He is not in the habit of meeting guests
as a rule. Mrs. Rockefeller is a splendid woman, as is her cousin, Miss Speil-man, both of whom I have often met at Forest Hill, and both of whom have often visited at my house. The effect on Mr. Rockefeller of the publicity which his husband has been subjected to has been especially noticeable of late."

"I do not know Rocky John D. Rockefeller drove me out of business. There was nothing in it for him. He had the power and he wielded it. He simply caught me with a lot of others. With all that John D. Rockefeller has, I had rather be what I am than Rockefeller with all his millions. My home is happy and my health is good. Mr.
Rockefeller knows no peace, either
mental or physical. A Christian? Ban!

That's part of his life."
Mr. Frary is a clerk in a coal office in the suburbs of this city. He lives modestly with his family at 217 Murray hill avenue. He is a cousin of W. S. Can-field of Youngstown, who invented the oil-tank car, and whose dealings with
Mr. Rockefeller were very disastrous.
He is not especially bitter in his criticism and was very reluctant to give any expression for publication in connection with his business dealings with Rockefeller.

Word Received From Absentee.
Despite his 70 years, Henry Wiechaupt
thinks himself able to take care of himself, and so notified his daughter, Mrs.
Jacob Helfinger, whose husband had told the police he was missing. A newspaper account of his disappearance led Wiechaupt to see his daughter's mistake, but he refused to tell her his present address.

An inquest was begun Tuesday over the death of Mrs. Julia Nutting of Stamford, Conn., who died suddenly
Monday at the home of her daughter,
Mrs. Franklin Pierce of 552 Clemens avenue. Mrs. Nutting suffered from dizziness and heart trouble and she died
before medical assistance could reach
her. She was 68 years of age and two months ago.

Spencer Frary, Cousin of Oil King's Wife, Thought He Could Run Oil Business of His Own.

SCOFFS AT CHRISTIANITY OF THE RICHEST MAN

Says It's Part of the Game—Compares His Lot With That of the Magnate to Credit of His Own Peace of Mind.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 1.—"I have been squeezed by John D. Rockefeller and financially ruined by him," said Spencer Frary, a cousin of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, in an interview here today.

"I believe I would have been a rich man today had I been permitted to have continued my oil business, which was taken from me by Mr. Rockefeller some 16 years ago," continued Frary.

Spencer Frary was born at Ravenna. He came here a farmer in 1871 and engaged in the grocery business. He went through the panic of '73 and then went into the oil business as a manufacturer of lubricating oil. After he had become well established, he had an offer to sell to Rockefeller and Andrews. He declined. He said that he believed that there was money in the oil business for him and decided to continue it.

"Here I made my mistake," said Frary, "for one morning I awoke to find that the price of paraffine oil, which I had to buy from Mr. Rockefeller, had been more than doubled, and in that, in other words, the price of the commodity which I bought from the Standard had been doubled, and the price of the commodity which I manufactured had been but in two by the Standard."

"Then we knew that at the same time while we were paying 70 cents per barrel for sending oil to the seaboard Rockefeller was only paying 10 cents. Ida Tarbell says Rockefeller was not satisfied with such a wide discrimination and he even got a rebate on our rate, and I have no doubt this was true, although I have no knowledge on the question."

Mr. Frary spoke of how miserable Mrs. Rockefeller was feeling as a result of newspaper and magazine attacks now being made on her husband. The effect, Mr. Frary said, had a most depressing effect on her health.

"I have frequently visited at Forest Hill," continued Mr. Frary, "together with my wife. I have never seen Mr. Rockefeller on the occasion of these visits. I have never wanted to see him. He is not in the habit of meeting guests as a rule. Mrs. Rockefeller is a splendid woman, as is her cousin, Miss Spellman, both of whom I have often met at Forest Hill, and both of whom have often visited at my house. The effect on Mrs. Rockefeller of the publicity which her husband has subjected to has been especially noticeable of late. 'I do not know why John D. Rockefeller drove me out of business, there was nothing in it for him. He had the power and he wanted it. He simply caught me with a lot of others. With all that John D. Rockefeller is worth, I had rather be what I am than Rockefeller with all his millions. My home is happy and my health is good. Mr. Rockefeller knows no peace, physical or mental or physical. A Christian? Bah! That's part of his game.'"

Mr. Frary is a clerk in a coal office in the suburbs of this city. He lives modestly with his family at 27 Murray hill avenue. He is a cousin of W. S. Canfield of Youngstown, who invented the oil-tank car, and whose dealings with Mr. Rockefeller were very disastrous.

He is not especially bitter in his criticism and was very reluctant to give any expression for publication in connection with his business dealings with Rockefeller.

MOSQUITO THEORY
GENERALLY HELD.

Physicians of New Orleans accept the mosquito theory of transmission of yellow fever. The stegomyia fasciata is the name of the fever breed of mosquito. It lives two months. It has a striped body like a tiger. The females alone are the biters. They bite only in the daytime. They breed in open clatters. Bitten by them, the fever develops in five days. The stegomyia does not live north of Mason and Dixon's line.

CAIRO, Ill., Aug. 1.—Beginning Wednesday Illinois will practically quarantine against Louisiana.

All passengers coming into the State from or by New Orleans line will be inspected and made to produce a health certificate.

"I do not intend that Illinois shall be the dumping ground for the refugees from the fever-infected districts," said Dr. James A. Egan, Secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health. "I do not feel at all concerned over the situation, but deem it best to take the precautions that we took in 1897, that is, to examine every passenger from the South who is not provided with a health certificate."

Merchants Alay Alarm
Thousands of circulars are being sent through the South by the business men of New Orleans containing an emphatic declaration by Dr. J. H. White of the United States Marine Hospital Service that freight cannot carry yellow fever infection.

The Italians who formed a permanent organization on Saturday have opened headquarters at the New Orleans Hotel. They are infected district and are receiving and filling requests for relief.

Immunes have been appointed to visit the stricken.

The colored organizations are doing good work. There has been an impression that negroes are immune to yellow fever. That, however, is not a fact.

Gov. Blanchard has arranged with the authorities here for the fumigation of passenger coaches that run between points in Louisiana.

Many medical men in the interior think that the stegomyia can be carried by cars and that there is danger of transmission of the fever unless disinfection of the coaches is resorted to.

Lafayette has decided to take no freight from New Orleans unless the cars are disinfected.

At Alexandria notices have been given that no boats from New Orleans will be permitted to land.

Port Gibson, Miss., which formerly wanted daylight communication with New Orleans, has changed her mind because of the number of cases that have appeared here and has shut herself up completely.

Utica, Miss., has sent word yesterday that she wants no mail that is not fumigated. The fever has been held in the Gulf coast has suffered severely by reason of drastic quarantines. The over-canning season is closed, but the season for fruit and shrimp canning is on.

NEW ORLEANS HOPEFUL
HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—The total number of yellow fever cases reported to date is 34. The number of deaths is 31. Twenty-one new cases and five new foci were reported yesterday.

The work of sanitation has progressed so far that every ward has been disinfected, cesspools, cisterns and drains. Screeners are enforcing the ordinance demanding that every receptacle be covered.

The New Orleans authorities profess to be pleased with the situation, which, they insist, shows signs of improvement. Yesterday was 92.6, the hottest day of the year.

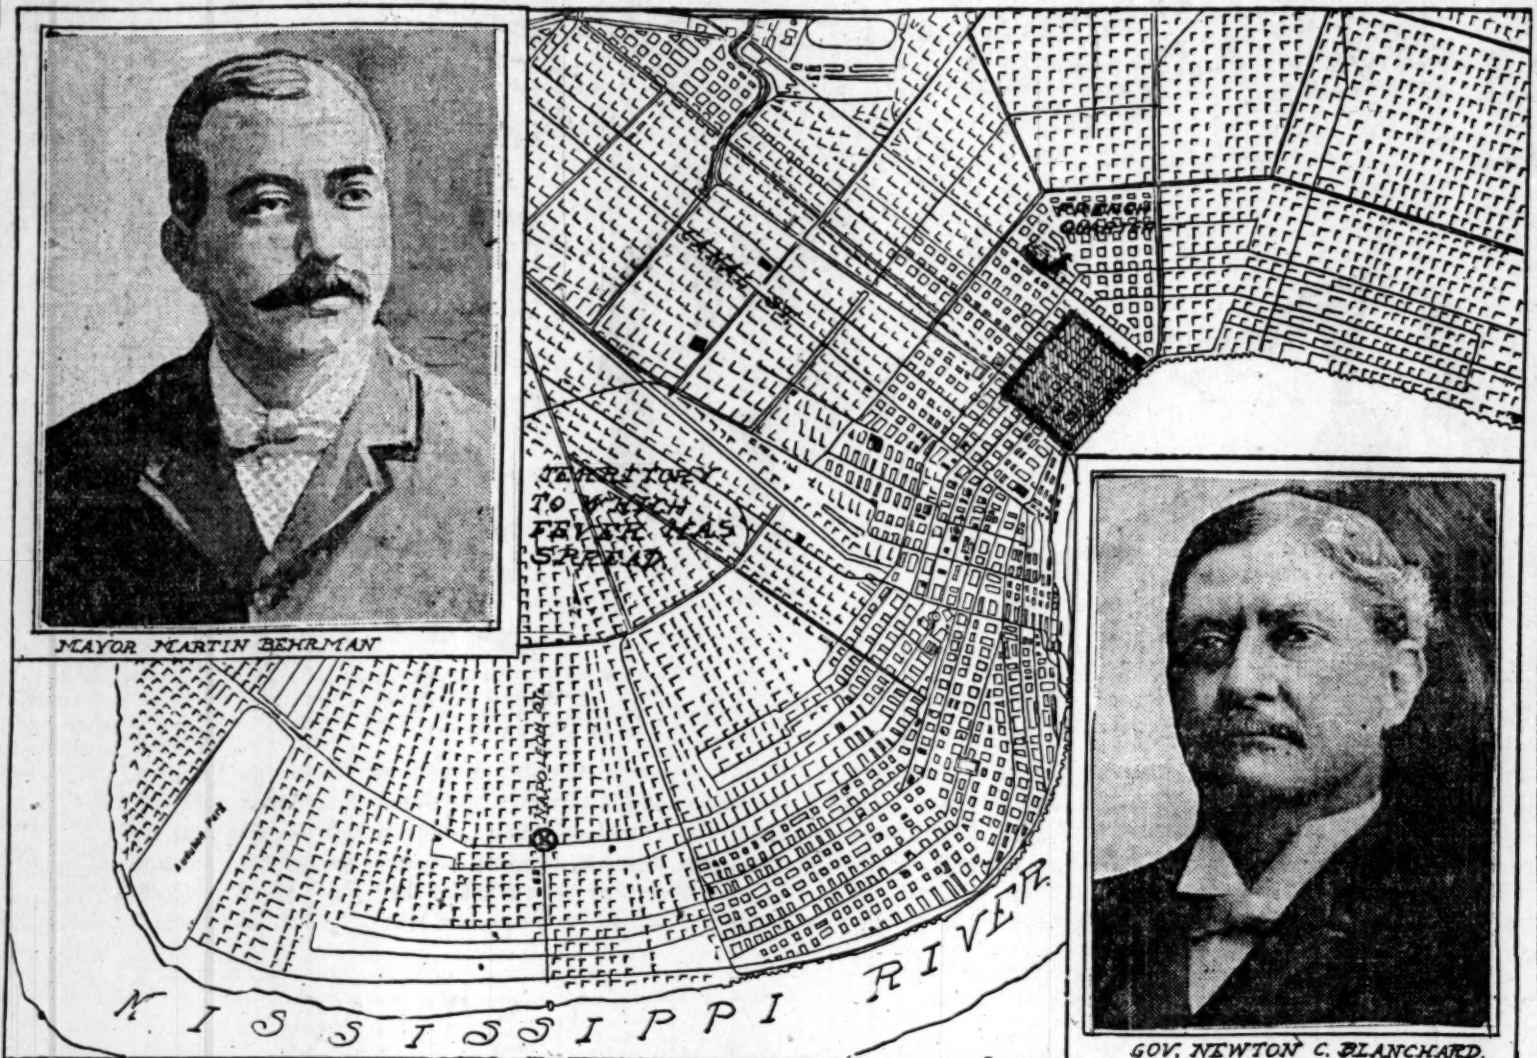

Gov. Blanchard has again replied to the State of Louisiana, who charges that the State of Louisiana is negligent in giving up facts about the fever. Blanchard denies every charge made by the Mississippi executive.

Meanwhile, reports come that Mississippi soldiers are stationed at Bogalusa on the border of Louisiana. At the Gulf Coast, have crossed Pearl River into Louisiana and are patrolling the country three miles from their own territory.

The officials at Lumberton, Miss., deny that any contagious suspects, held in camp, were fired on or killed. The one yellow fever case at Lumberton is confining.

At a conference of freight officials in New Orleans, a comparison of lists of quarantine notices from various Mississippi towns forced up about 20 places where local authorities have placed an embargo on all freight from Louisiana, even that which every expert has declared absolutely incapable of carrying infection.

The curfew law has been put into force in many Mississippi towns. Martial law is the rule in others. Troops guard railroads, and armed guards cover highways.

Jackson has shotgun quarantine on all main roads.

The Louisville & Nashville is finding difficulty in securing detention camps in Mississippi. None of the towns will have them.

Arkansas is preparing a military quarantine against New Orleans.

The annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Log-rolling Association, to have been held in Little Rock, Aug. 14, has been called off.

Louisville has ordered a yellow fever hospital to be prepared, but will not quarantine against New Orleans for the present.

Texas has extended her quarantine to the whole of Louisiana.

ROME, Aug. 1.—A sensation has been caused by an order issued by Pius X that bishops all over the world shall in future compel all candidates for holy orders to pass an examination.

From time immemorial members of religious orders have been exempt from this provision of the Council of Trent, and the papal order is considered here the first blow to the many privileges claimed by the clergymen of the orders.

are guarding the dirt roads into Greenville, Miss.

Natchez is satisfied the quarantine is too strict and wants it modified to prevent visitations from infected points only and not all of Louisiana.

VETERAN CLERK
DIES AT HIS WORK

While going through the routine of his duties as chief clerk in the Water Commissioner's office, which place he has occupied more than 20 years, Peter Daniels, aged 65, dropped dead in the arms of Secretary William Walsh Monday afternoon. Daniels had been in poor health for two months, but had been at the office each day.

Mr. Daniels came to St. Louis from Manchester, England, in 1861, and had lived in this city since that time. He had served in the Water Commissioner's office 30 years, being the first purchaser in the department. He resided at 3614 A. Botanical avenue.

His widow and the following five children survive: Mrs. S. H. Johnson, Little Rock, Ark.; J. A. Daniels, W. O. Daniels of St. Louis.

PICKPOCKET IS
RESCUED BY GIRLS

Nellie McDermott, 22 years old, 1032 North Broadway, and Anna Whalen, 23 years old, 167 North Broadway, are prisoners in Carr Street Station charged with aiding in the escape of a pickpocket on an Easton car at Franklin avenue and Twentieth street at 3 a. m. Tuesday.

Jacob Werner, 399 Easton avenue, was a passenger on the car. He felt a hand tugging at his watch chain and grabbed the man by the wrist. Two girls grabbed him held him against the dashboard while the man escaped with the watch.

Policeman Morris was attracted by the disturbance and he arrested the two girls. They deny having had anything to do with the affair, but Werner has positively identified them.

Returned Soldier Says Chiefs Who Vowed Friendship Here Are Enemies.

About 150 former members of the Twenty-second Infantry passed through St. Louis Tuesday on the way to their homes.

The men were mustered out at San Francisco, July 24, having arrived from Manila five days previous.

Sergt. Henry Acker of Louisville, who was in charge of the party, had been in the service 18 years.

He has seen five years' service in the Philippines, being stationed most of the time in Mindanao province, which is the home of the Moros.

"We will always have trouble with the Moros," said Sergt. Acker.

"Their savage nature is shown by the fact that many of them, after spending months at the St. Louis Exposition, where they were brought in contact with the strongest forces of civilization, returned to the islands to become the chief fomenters of trouble."

"As a consequence we were compelled to shoot down many warriors who, a short time before, had been our nation's guests."

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Two deaths and one burial at sea among passengers of the North German Lloyd steamship Bremen were reported when the liner arrived here today.

Mrs. Dollie Edmonson Vedder, aged 61 years, a first cabin passenger, and widow of Capt. O. Vedder, U. S. A., died July 27. Her body was brought to port.

A child who died in the steerage was buried at sea.

HORSE BURNED; NEGRO HURT

Man Leaps From Upper Floor of Burning Stable.

Fire that destroyed the stable in the rear of 1115 North Ninth street early Tuesday morning, burned to death a horse owned by Isaac Sansone, North Ninth street, and severely burned George Willis, a negro, 70 years old, who slept in the stable.

Gasoline, stored in the loft of the stable, is thought to have caused the fire.

Policeman Loucks of the Carr Street Station, walking away from the burning building, heard groans, and following the sound found Williamson lying on the ground. He had jumped from the second story. His arm and leg were badly burned and at the City Hospital it is thought that his condition is serious.

Thieves Steal Rare
Old Altar From Italian Church.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1905, by the Press Pub. Co.

FLORENCE, Italy, Aug. 1.—Another work of art has been taken from the parish church at Signa, made in the sixteenth century by Luca Della Robbia, has just been stolen. It is not known how it could have been taken to pieces and sent abroad without the knowledge of the police, but no trace of it can be found.

This magnificent work of art was valued at nearly $100,000. Its loss has caused much regret and comment throughout Italy.

Stabbed in Street Fight.
Tony Sansoni of 21 North Eighth street, who was stabbed Monday night in a knife duel on the sidewalk at Sixth and Wash streets, refused to tell the police the cause of the affair. The wounded man was taken to the Protestant Hospital last night and afterwards removed to his home.

Four Occupants of Vehicle That Collides With Street Car Are Injured.

Frank Graham, a subscriber, living at 1835 Malden Lane, will answer the charge of careless driving in Dayton Street Police Court Tuesday as the result of an accident to a funeral party for which he was driver Monday afternoon. Five occupants of his carriage were hurt, the street car and painfully bruised when an Easton avenue car struck the vehicle. The police claim that Graham was asleep on the box.

Mrs. C. F. Mueller, 321 Cole Boulevard avenue, was most severely injured, her right arm being sprained and her shoulder cut and bruised. Other occupants of the cab, who were slightly injured, were C. F. Mueller, Frederick Goetz, 161 Monroe street, and Mrs. Sophia Goetz. Graham's scalp was cut.

The party was returning from a funeral when the horses turned straight across the tracks in front of an approaching car.

THE PREDATORY GAMBLERS.

Saratoga is rejecting over an invasion of gamblers
with their camp followers for the racing season.
The misguided people of that erstwhile respectable
resort are fascinated by the jewelry, the tainted
money and the loud clothes of the human hawks
who are gathering for their prey. Saratoga is one of the few places where racetrack and other forms
of gambling are permitted and no sensible community wants its gambling carnival. Many of the gamblers who are at Saratoga have been driven away from other communities. They are outlaws.

In this country horse racing has degenerated from
a noble sport with incidental gambling to a disreputable gambling game with incidental sport. It has fallen out of the hands of men who enjoyed
the sport and loved fine horseflesh to professional
gamblers who were greedy for money and abuse
horses by turning them into gambling devices. When the professional gamblers discovered the tremendous possibility of profit in the manipulating of the races for the benefit of the betting ring, the fate of horse racing was sealed. The racetracks were turned into gambling dens where all the gross and petty swindles of gambling sharks were put into operation.

Horse racing, with incidental gambling, stains a semblance of respectability in New York and parts of Kentucky, because owners and breeders of good horses still control the racetracks there and keep out the worst class of gambling. Elsewhere in this country the professional gamblers have taken possession of the track and made them dens of thieves,
menacing the moral and social welfare of the communities in which they were operated.

After several years of bitter experience with race-
track gambling dens, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana,
New Jersey and Tennessee have driven the gamblers
from their borders through stringent anti-gambling
laws, and the racetracks have closed because they were dependent upon the tainted money of the betting stands. The fight against racetrack gambling
in Missouri under the leadership of the Post-Dispatch, and of Gen. Folk's successful efforts to enforce the law, are matters of recent history. The people of Missouri want no more of it; nor do the people of New Jersey, Indiana, Illinois and Tennessee, whose experiences were similar. They found that the racetracks promoted many evils and became the centers of political corruption. To protect their dirty business, the gamblers entered into
state and local politics and formed gambling rings
for the control of legislators, courts and police.
Arkansas is awakening to the evils of the Hot Springs gambling joints, and Louisiana is ready to revolt against the domination of the bookmakers.

The common argument that gambling benefits the community where gamblers are permitted to operate
is fallacious. For a time the gamblers create an artificial prosperity by attracting victims and spending "easy money," but in the end they rob and demoralize the community. They create intolerable conditions and drive out respectable people. The gamblers contribute nothing to the wealth of the community; they merely prey upon the wealth of others. The money passes from the hands of the weak and unwary into the hands of the sharp and unscrupulous. Like all predatory creatures the professional gambler must go.

Young men should not fail to make a note of Judge Moore's observation that almost every man
with a workshop, sentence starting him in the face can then receive his jolly. It is extremely painful for youthful eyes to be opened so.

NEW USE FOR CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Vesperian Warner, who, as Commissioner of Pensions, distributes $140,000,000 a year, received a letter from a veteran who had been drawing a pension
for years, saying he was not now entitled to a pension. In the letter was inclosed a voucher for $60,
the latest quarterly payment sent to him.

This was unusual, but not unprecedented. Mr.
Warner decided there must be something wrong
mentally with a man, who, voluntarily, gave up $20 a month for life, and directed the Medical Board
to examine him.

The doctors found that the man was in excellent health, mentally as well as physically. The veteran said he had applied for the pension when he was in poor health, but that he had become a Christian

Scientist, and all his infirmities had disappeared.
Christian Scientists will rejoice that the doctors—
their arch enemies—have said that a man can join
their cult and not be mentally unbalanced.

If all veterans were to become Christian Scientists
the Government could save billions of dollars—or expend the money in battleships. Since 1861 upward of $3,000,000,000 has been paid in pensions—largely because of the lack of faith in Christian Science.
Any nation wishing to set up a state religion should choose Christian Science—it is economical.

The Dead Knight.—Col. Ingersoll's "plumed
knight" is not forgotten, but considering the enthusiasm with which the name of Blaine was received by
most of his great party, it is remarkable that no
monument has been raised to his memory and that even the fine white marble bust by Trentanove of Florence has not been paid for. It is further recorded that his own state has not claimed his body,
which was buried in Washington. It is clearly time
for his admirers to be starting something.

DECREASE THE DEATH RATE.

The weekly report of births and deaths in St.
Louis may be studied with profit by all who desire to further the million-population movement. Last week's report showed that the death rate was increasing, while the birth rate was falling off.

The total of 200 deaths for the week was an increase of 12 over the previous week, while the total of 221 births was 17 less than for the previous week.
It is possible to improve this record materially by cutting down the number of deaths from preventable diseases. Of the total number of deaths for the week, no less than 55 were from diseases of the stomach and intestines, or kindred diseases such as marasmus (wasting away), and inanition (starvation), both of which frequently cause the death of infants who are improperly fed.

The Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice fund
will prevent much sickness and fatality from these diseases. And it will make it easier to fight other sicknesses among the very young, to whom pure
food is a prime necessity.

As the summer season progresses, the resisting powers, especially of children, wane. We shall have plenty of hot weather, and the Pure Milk and Free
Ice fund will need generous support.

In saying that they used to give rebates to get business, the Santa Fe managers offer a reason but not a justification. They merely accuse others of the same offense.

IS PUBLICITY OVERDONE?

A writer in the August Atlantic says: "We have
in this country an almost superstitious reverence
for publicity, as though it were a panacea for political and social evils. Give the people the facts,
is our comfortable doctrine, and conditions will
remedy themselves."

That is not and has never been the doctrine of the Post-Dispatch or of any other practical newspaper. The true idea of public service is publicity
plus a remedy for the evil exposed.

In the anti-gambling fight, the Post-Dispatch not only published the facts showing that racetrack gambling ruined individuals and homes. It aided in organizing the people to combat the evil, and in
having the law passed making gambling at racetracks a felony. Having done this, it proceeded to see that the law was enforced and the evil abated.

Publicity is the first step. It is a sine qua non of reform. But the searchlight must be followed by the practical attack or the insistence on the indicated
remedy. Publicity and public service of this character will never be overdone.

In the peace negotiations the Japs and the Russians are doing some clever sparring for an opening.

DISAPPEARING HUMPS.

The government of the United States will have to
hump itself, or the last buffalo hump will disappear
from the country.

It appears that the Pablo and Allard Flathead Indian Reservation is soon to be opened. This will necessitate the sale of the 800 head of buffalo kept
there by Messrs. Pablo and Allard. If the butcher gets these, a few thousand persons will have the inestimable privilege of tasting buffalo hump, and
the rest of us must go hungry.

Nobody seems to know what the Government was doing when the thousands of pot and skin hunters
were exterminating the huge and ugly hump-bearers that used to tread down the Kansas and Nebraska farmers' crops and afford the Indians an excuse for not settling down to till the ground.

If a use could be found for the buffalo, he should be preserved. But the attempt to retain any species
of animal which is inferior or useless, on purely sentimental grounds, must fail. And it has never been proved that buffalo hump is superior to good
sirloin, or his skin better than that of animals
easier to domesticate and put to use. Probably all that we can hope for is to preserve a few specimens.

The sympathetic people of Kiel, who think Cornelius Vanderbilt too poor to pay his fine of a dollar and a quarter for auto scorching, have large hearts. There is a great deal of good in Germany.

Why did not Secretary Wilson think of reorganizing
his department upon a proper system before the exposures of corruption took place? Was he asleep
at his post?

Poet Riley says that twilight blurs the butterfly.
What we need is a twilight that will do something
to the mosquito.

There may be New Zealanders sitting on Eads
Bridge before the Terminal ends the arbitrary.

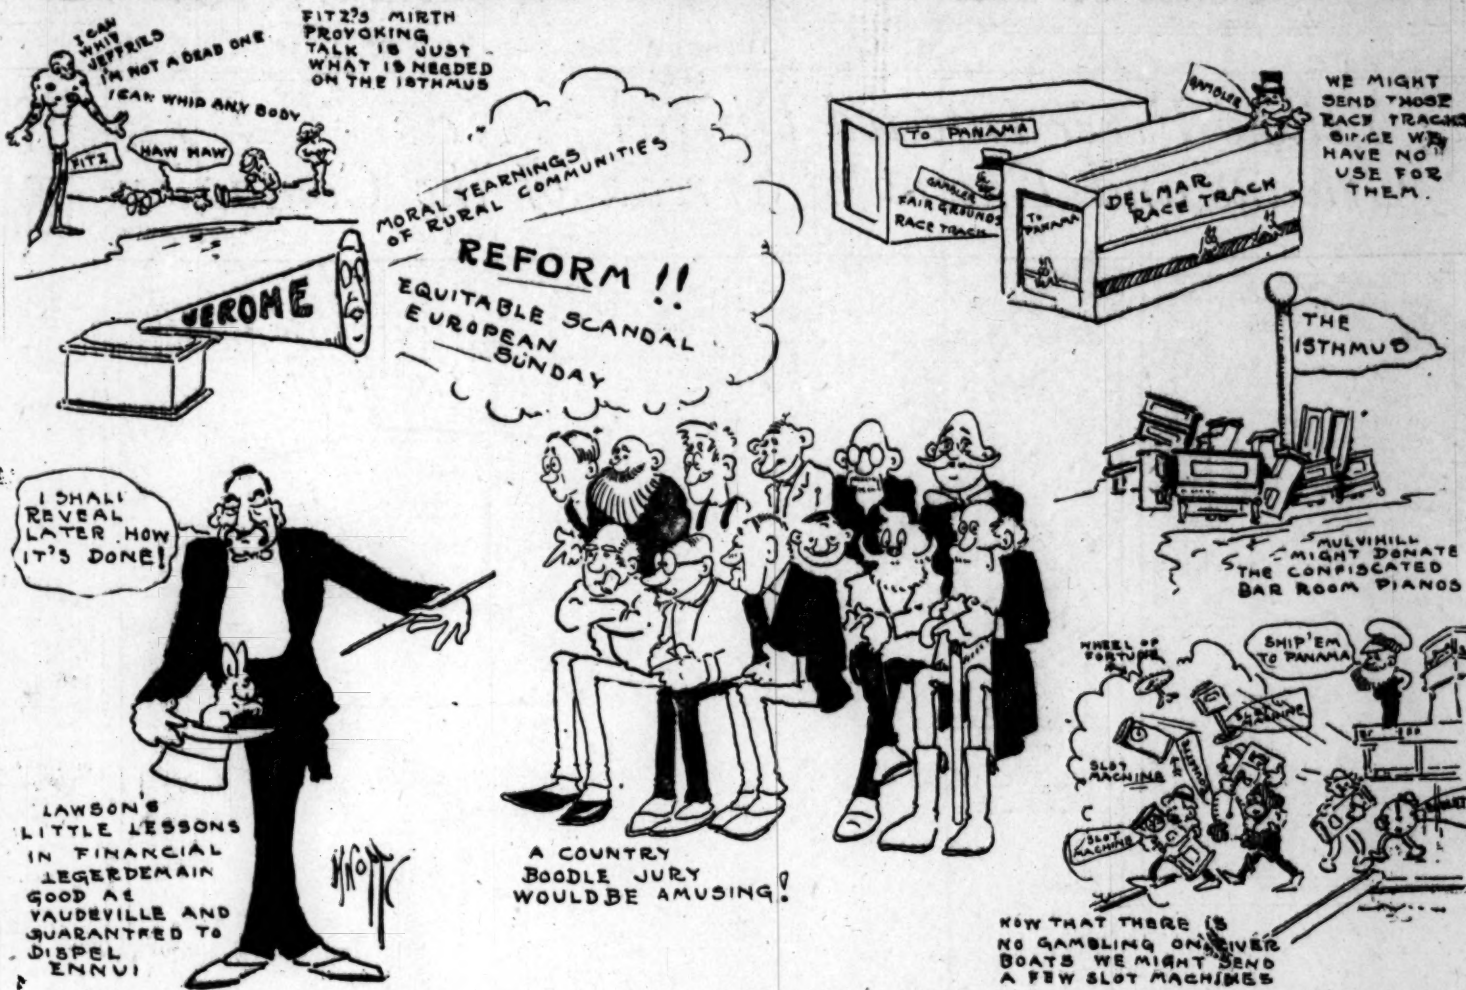

The boycotting of the Standard Oil Co. in China
will not check the flow of tainted money.

It is truly a sad case if the Agricultural Department's algologist has gone wrong.

Even New Jersey, the mamma of trusts, has put
a stop to race gambling.

As a peach is silent, Mr. Depew cannot be expected to talk.

SHIP THEM ALL TO PANAMA

United States officials in the Panama Canal zone are endeavoring to furnish some innocent diversions for the men engaged in the gigantic task to which this Government has set its hand. It is believed at the offices of the Canal Commission in Washington that the work of the two "impresarios" whom the Government has sent to the isthmus will be of value in inducing the working force to remain on the spot. These men are W. E. C. Nazro and E. A. Moffatt. Mr. Nazro is devoting himself especially to relieving the clerical force in the zone of the irksomeness of the eight hours' rest to the men after they have finished their day's labor and have slept all they care to. Mr. Moffatt will have to furnish amusement for the diggers of all nationalities, and it is admitted that the task ahead of him is no light one.—Washington dispatch.

LITTLE STORIES

BY ROSE MARION.

LOUIS wears the uniform of the St.
Louis University now, and more than ten years have passed since
he went to visit in a small town and made his hosts laugh much.

The town interested him, especially
the library with all its books, the stock-
yards where he saw so many horses
and cattle and the barber shops where scissors and razors went so fast.

The family spoke of going to church
one evening. Louis was glad. Church always meant a long buggy ride for him.

He was somewhat puzzled as well.
He had looked in all the sheds and was quite sure there was no horse or buggy
about. How would they go to church?

He decided to ask.

"How are we going to ride to church?"
he asked the mother of the family.

"She is quick of wit and replied: "On shanks' pony."

Louis hurried with his preparations.
This must be some new kind of horse
such as he had never seen.

"Hurry! Hurry!" he urged his sister,
who likes to linger long over books,
"or you'll not be ready when Shanke's
pony comes past."

MISS ZOE AKINS, daughter of T.
J. Akins, who was a member of the Odeon Stock Company
last season, is doing other things beside resting at the family country
home "Greenhurst," near Humansville, Mo.

"Greenhurst" is an ideal place to rest.
The foothills of the Ozarks overshadow
it, big trees grow about the house and
an always glad brook flows through the grounds.

Not entirely strange that Miss Akins
should be a young woman of much
originality, her surroundings favor that.

Just now while much of her thinking
time is given to literature and the drama she reserves a portion of it for dress and has evolved something new
in that line.

She calls it a "harness." It consists of suspenders and belt and is cut out
of flowered crepe paper with the edges
puffed out into ruffles.

Worn with a white costume it's cool
and bright and effective.

The suspenders can be fastened to the
belt by hidden stitches or hidden pins
or fancy pins in full view.

Miss Akins has a pet chameleon that enjoys to wander about among the flowers of the suspenders. The French
"one day" hats of the same kind of paper would add to the effect of the
"harness" and have probably been adopted by Miss Akins.

NEW YORK EDITORIAL OPINION

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The World
says: "New York had 357 fire alarms
in the three months ending last March
—an average of a fraction less than 40
a day. Of these calls 238 were unnecessary. In 2624 cases the fires were confined to the point of starting. With total damages of $2,584,286 due to the
quarter's fires, the total uninsured loss
is estimated at only $127,086.

"It has been estimated that New York
spends in a year upon its fire department as much as the like expenditures
of Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and Philadelphia combined. The return in efficiency is shown in such a number as
that just quoted of fires that do not get past the beginning place.

"Within the year 1904 the city's fire
fighters increased in number from 2972
to more than 3500."

The Times ridicules the anger of the Russian paper Svet for accusing Secretary Taft of lack of tact for visiting Japan while the peace envoys are in the United States.

"The Secretary of War is not traveling in uniform or in armor. He does not even wear side arms," it says. "There is nowhere in Nippon a more unofficial person than he during his sojourn there
with the Philippine junketing party."

"Indeed the presence of Secretary Taft and his party in Japan at this moment has no more political or international significance, and is not less

"tactless" than would be the presence
there of any other personally conducted party of tourists. Mr. Taft and the Congressional members of the party
are going to the Philippines for purposes of inquiry and observation. They visit Japan precisely as any other travelers would do."

Mr. Cone Johnson and ex-Senator
Mills are reported as possible candidates
for Governor of Texas. Of Mr. Mills the Sun says: "Mr. Mills is a master of clear flashing speech. He puts all his weight into his blows. There are no
reserves, saving clauses or loopholes
of evasion in what he says."

"Mr. Mills retired from the Senate in 1899. He is believed to be successful in business. The mammoth of unrighteousness is thought to have been good to him. We hope so. It is well to see the veteran politician poor and unstained
after 35 years of public service more
boosted by kindly fortune."

"Well, if Mr. Mills is forehanded
enough to take a new hand in politics
he should be called back. There stands
his old foe, the tariff, without a mark
on it as yet, although it has been the Aunt Sally for so many eager throwers; and many Republicans are now
howling and hurling at it. It is invul-nerable, beyond reach, not to be touched."

"Mr. Mills is but 73, in his prime,
full of knowledge and of youthful ar-
dor. Can he keep out of the shindy?"

"The Hon. Cone Johnson should be content with second money."

Kee Kow Chow, royal Japanese Ambassador, went to worship in the Temple
of the Three Tow-Tows.
These three mischievous Tow-Tows did a remarkable thing. They combined in the wink of an eye, and there stood the beautiful Princess, Oh San, whose grace entirely won the good Ambassador.
Can you cut out the bodies of the three idols and make the Princess?

A BAS MAIRI!
Or the Torture of the Good Old Names.

BY NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH

"W" HERE are the Marys and Annes
and Elizas, loving
and lovely as of yore? Look
in the columns of old advertisers; married and dead by
the score.

That is what Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote about them. But he was away off.
For every dead Mary and Anne and Edith and Ethel,
there are a score of living mon-
strosities of nomenclature who answer to Mai, to Nannette, to Ethely and Elythe, but who once bore
those beautiful, simple, Saxon names.

Of course, the girls who so transform and torture their good names—"good name in man or woman, dear my lord, is the immediate jewel of their souls"—mean well. So do the Chinese women who bind their feet or the savages who flatten their noses and put rings in them. But the result is the same.

I suppose it is possible for a man to love a Mai
or a Mairi—even this horror exists—for it seems possible for a man to love anything. On no other theory could he be brought to tolerate their simpering distortion.

Strange as it may seem there are women answering to these weird alphabetical combinations
who possess sense, notwithstanding the fact that one usually sees Mai or Mairi appended to magazine poetry, to which they seem, after all, an appropriate finish. And the motive behind the strange, willful perversion may not therefore be attributed to
sheer foolishness.

Perhaps it is the same which prompts men to
sudden and violent changes of hairstyle.

But in the matter of names, our presiding relatives seem generally to exercise such fiendish ingenuity that it is a waste of time to seek to improve upon their handiwork.

It is, however, a pity that women with the mania
for name-culture should not realize the general contempt in which men hold the improved or fancy names.

Mary is a fine, dignified name. But Mairi? I would prefer Habbekuk or Mehitable any day in the year. I have often wondered, if at a certain age—say 14—we were to be allowed to change our names as we may our guardians, and were miraculously preserved from reading cheap novels in the meantime, whether we would do any better than our parents with the selection. I am not inclined to think we would. It is, after all, best to let bad enough alone. Witness the crop of Elythas and Ethelys, Mais and Maris that walk about unmobbed,
and even get married. But if you have not done
so, and rejoice in one of these distortions, seek out
the discarded spelling of your christening and bear
it with a chastened spirit.

not signify that the spider is dangerous. It means
the subject was in a condition of such feeble health
that a pin scratch would have served as well
to end life as the spider's bite.

"SANDY HOOK" HOMES PULLED INTO THE RIVER

"Deputy sheriffs are today evicting the squatters from Sandy Hook, claimed by the Wiggins Ferry Co. The houses are being dragged into the river and set adrift with chickens in coops on the roofs and dogs and children playing on the decks and roofs.

These evicted thus far seem little concerned, saying they would find other resting places for their floating homes. Deputy Sheriff Cashed is in charge of the eviction forces with Deputies Melring, Sherer, Brockman, Williams, Schaeffer and Philpot as assistants.

The steamboat McClellan, owned by the Wiggins Ferry Co. and manned by 25 men, is being assisted.

The deputy sheriff remains on the shore while the McClellan anchors two or three hundred feet away in the river. One thousand feet of stout rope on the boat is used in dragging the boats from the shore into the water.

The work of eviction was commenced at the south end of Sandy Hook. The 15 or 18 boats were dragged into the water by noon. Some of the boats were in shallow water while others were high and dry and did not look seaworthy.

But they were unceremoniously pulled into the water until they were in the current and then the rope was cast off and the boats left to their fates.

Sheds Also in River.

Squatter Neil had two shacks beside his boat. He had packed his belongings on the boat and it was first dragged into the river. As it floated away the rope was attached to the shacks, the windlass on the McClellan was set to work and the shacks were dragged into the river to become driftwood.

In pulling the boats into the water the steamboat remained stationary, a windlass furnishing the power to pull in the rope.

Many of the squatters had chickens. When they saw that there was to be no further delay they began scurrying around after their fowls, catching them and placing them in coops and boxes. Chickens were the only occupants of the houseboats who showed any excitement over the eviction.

Mr. Franklin, the owner of one houseboat, also owned a tame photograph. As his residence was dragged into the water and turned loose he wound up his photograph and drifted placidly down stream, while the machine gave variations of "Sailing, Sailing, Over the Bounding Main," and "Home, Sweet Home."

Dinner was prepared for the deputy sheriffs aboard the McClellan and after they ate they were ready to move north and assault the squatters further up Sandy Hook.

MOTHER MISTAKES AGONY CRY FOR JOY

Hears Screams of Daughter in Flames, but at First Is Not Alarmed.

Alice Mendle, 1 years old, had a race with death and won. At least the doctors who attended her told her mother, Mrs. Mary Mendle, of 1555 O'Fallon street, Tuesday morning that the child would recover from the burns she suffered about the fire and adding small pieces of wood that she might watch the flames rise higher.

She was laughing and screaming in childish rage, and when a few moments later her mother heard her screaming again, she did not think of danger, though she did not know the child had been playing near the fire. Little Alice had ventured too near the flames and her light summer dress was ablaze in an instant.

The first touch of the flame to her tender skin caused great pain and she screamed with fright.

"I knowed mamma was in the house, and so I runned as fast as I could," she exclaimed Tuesday, when she was asked how she came to be in the house and saw me. Then she came and pulled my clothes all off.

"Then she carried me into the house and mamma came and put a lot of stuff about the fire and she burned, and it didn't hurt any more."

Mrs. Mendle, looking out of the window, saw the child running toward the house, her clothing ablaze. The frightened mother ran out to the little one and hastily pulled the burning garments from her body. She then carried the child into the house and summoned a physician. The child is badly burned about the right side the entire length of her body, but she did not inhale the flame and will recover. Mrs. Mendle's hands were badly burned.

THE POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

Prices Sagged, Following a Firm Tone to the Morning Sales.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The market opened this morning with no marked change in quotations and the sentiment here still generally favoring the bull movement which has been the popular side of the trading for the past week. A large failure in Paris rather dampened the ardor of the speculators who were looking for a sharp advance and the lower London market caused by the Paris financial difficulty, had its effect in New York.

Predictions of a further advance in Amalgamated were freely made and the announcement that the price of the raw metal had been further advanced was in line with the prediction. Gates and his allies being reported to be behind the present buying.

For the first half hour the trading was not of any considerable proportions, the market changes small, and not noteworthy.

The later tone to the market showed considerable speculative activity, strong people being behind the movement. There was some slight decline before the noon hour but it was followed by a recovery, the buying orders which appeared on the floor.

More talk of Gates influences in Copper cropped out and bull tips on this stock were plentiful. Copper reports generally were excellent and helped to strengthen the Granger stocks, while the Southern rails held well under what was supposed to be advance inklings of a cotton report, which would show the present conditions far below the average for this month.

Money ruled easy and in moderate demand, with no conditions in the loan crowd which were abnormal.

Industrials were the proper thing today in the speculative market. The earnings of many of the most active on the list being such as would give the stock a good basis for the operation. There has seemed to have been a switch among the manipulators from the rails to the industrials in the past few days, and today's market was evidence of their work.

On the money market the rumors were circulated that peace propositions from Russia were to come and that accompanied the street and money market, a financial problem of a large loan to be made by Russia, but that did not worry the market, as the loan was not such as to arouse any enthusiasm on the part of those who were looking for a rosier report.

In the money market the rumors were circulated that peace propositions from Russia were to come and that accompanied the street and money market, a financial problem of a large loan to be made by Russia, but that did not worry the market, as the loan was not such as to arouse any enthusiasm on the part of those who were looking for a rosier report.

Steel Foundries, which had been dead for some time, picked up and showed activity, with the price was lifted. In a few quotations the price was lifted, and the steel industry was active for several days. The reported good condition of the iron trade and the activity in the steel industry was the plausible reason given for the advance.

An easy market was that showed in the later trading and prices sagged off in fractions in the later dealings. From a rather desultory manner the late trading showed a lack of support which brought prices gradually down all along the list. There was no special feature but sales were made on a sagging market which lacked both the life and strength of the morning.

When the late trade was made, the brokers were in a doubtful mood as to the morning, and the morning was not even better than the bulls and bears.

RIVAL LIGHT CO.'S ROW OVER POLES

Edison Concern Says Union Managers Refuse Them Space for Wires.

Henry C. Scott, president of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Carondelet, filed a protest Tuesday with President O'Reilly of the Board of Public Improvements against the refusal of the Union Electric Light and Power Co. to permit the Carondelet plant to place wires on Union poles.

Mr. Scott says that for several weeks the officials of the Union Corp. have been refusing to give the Carondelet plant space for its wires on the Union poles, although the Union company has many wires strung on Carondelet poles and although the company which have been absorbed into the Union company agreed when they obtained their franchises to let other companies string wires on their poles.

The mutual use of poles has been required by the Board of Public Improvements in order to minimize the number of poles.

Mr. Scott says the Union company has no reason for refusing space, as the poles are not overloaded.

"The Union company," he says, "has made no effort to conceal its plans and purposes in this matter, for a high official of the concern recently announced to the public that it had no objection to grant rights to a competing company to string wires on the poles of its company."

He said will have an inspection made to ascertain whether the poles are overloaded.

BABY STRANGLED ON TRAIN

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—A newly-born baby that had been delivered by a midwife was found in a package rack of a Pennsylvania Railroad train at Chestnut Hill. The child had been garroted by means of a cord drawn tightly about the neck and its mouth had been stuffed with linen. The body was taken to the Morgue.

MARKET TODAY SHOWS ACTIVE BIDDING FOR HIGHER GRADE OF SECURITIES.

Investment Purchasers Make St. Louis Market Satisfactory to Brokers.

A tone to the local market Tuesday had the effect of making the brokers on the St. Louis Stock Exchange well satisfied with the outlook. It may have been the return of some of the summer sojourners who were figuring on how to reinvest their savings, or it may have been a recovery from the lull of the new York market which had been in the trading, out whatever it was, it reflected an excellent tone to the bidding.

Commerce was again in demand in the bidding for bank stocks with buyers almost unhampered at prices ranging around $40 and all at that price taken on the floor. Third National and First National in the miscellaneous list. National City was the active stock, the dividend at 4 per cent.

Bonds were decidedly active in the bidding and figured considerably in the proposed to part with their holdings, advanced prices were obtainable.

PREACHER WITH 3 WIVES, A FUGITIVE

Rev. O. C. Burt Goes to Parts Unknown When Spouse No. 2 Gets After Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 1.—The police of this city are looking for the Rev. O. C. Burt, formerly of Chicago and Newton, Pa., who is alleged to have at least three wives.

From evidence they have they are inclined to believe he has many more. Burt came to Milwaukee two months ago and told his friends his voice had failed him, and he had retired as minister in the Methodist Church. He got a position as an advertiser. He said he had been in Chicago and had been on occasions she came here and visited him.

On July 9 he took Annie Lemke of this city to St. Joe, Mich., and they were married. At about that time his Chicago wife, formerly Miss Annie, now of Waukegan, now a stenographer, in the office of a local attorney, learned of his marriage and retained Attorney J. F. Langdon to investigate Burt's affairs.

Langdon found he had a wife in Newton, Pa., Mrs. Susie Smith Burt, and also one in this city—Annie Lemke—and that he had not been divorced from either. The attorney wrote Burt asking him to explain, but he left the city hurriedly.

A few days later he telegraphed from Chicago to his wife in this city and also sent her $5 by mail. That is the last that has been heard of him. The Chicago wife is now on her way to St. Joe, Mich., and also failed to pay his room rent.

DROWNED WITH RESCUER NEAR

Man Falls From Ferry Boat at Landing—Boat Hand Jumps to Save Him.

Charles Gatlin, 42 years old, who resided with his family at 1421 Dillon street, was drowned in the Mississippi Sunday afternoon. Gatlin left his home at 2 p. m. to join friends in East St. Louis.

He promised his wife that he would be back at 7.

As Gatlin was about to step on a Wiggins ferryboat on his way home, he missed his footing and fell in the river. One of the hands, whose name the police do not know, jumped into the river and almost lost his life in an unavailing effort to save him.

Gatlin was employed at a coopership works, Jefferson avenue and Victor street. He was a member of the Cooper's Union.

Mrs. Christine Gatlin and two children, a boy and a girl, aged 16, survive him.

One of the hands, whose name the police do not know, jumped into the river and almost lost his life in an unavailing effort to save him.

ADVANCE IN WHEAT SUFFERS COLLAPSE

Government and Snow's Weekly Reports Take Black Rust Out of Market Again.

Wheat had a sharp advance early Tuesday and held steady until near the close, when the high price structure collapsed on Snow's weekly report, the Government weekly and the late favorable advices from Russia. The close was 1/2 to 1/4 lower than Monday. Corn followed wheat up and held some advance.

The rust situation in the Northwest was a bothersome factor. W. B. Snow had the last word and said three weeks' investigation failed to show him any real rust. His report says the growing wheat is sturdy and promises to ripen in days ahead of last year. The Government weekly report supported this contention. The Northwestern rust alarm that rust is becoming a real danger was repeated, but it was not taken seriously.
